•Sustainable Palm Fruit Oil

The oil we choose for our oaty recipes is palm fruit oil which contains a number of fats, vitamins and nutrients but no trans-fatty acids, making it a perfect fit with our product ethos. Naturally, we insist that our palm fruit oil comes from sustainable sources and, in support of this, we are proud to say that we're now members of the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil (RSPO).

The RSPO is working to make the World's primary resources of vegetable oils more sustainable and sets environmental and social standards for sustainable palm oil production.

Strict audits and checks are completed before any oil gets the RSPO's seal of approval and we are happy to comply with the required supply chain systems. To date over two million tonnes of sustainable palm oil has been produced and the numbers are growing rapidly.
