- Confusion among end-consumers
- Costs of changing labels
- Difficulty of applying for RSPO Trademark
- Lack of customer demand
- Limited label space
- Low consumer awareness
- Low usage of palm oil
- Risk of supply disruption
- Others

Other:

We manufacture predominantly for retailers own label and as yet there is not the demand to use the logo on pack.

4.4 Have you uploaded information and images of products using the RSPO Trademark to the RSPO mobile app?5. Actions for Next Reporting Period*5.1 Outline actions that you will take in the coming year to promote the use of RSPO-certified sustainable palm oil and oil palm products along the supply chain.

There are currently no plans to use the trademark, but going forward this may change in line with any of the following - retailer requirements, company strategies/policies which are routinely reviewed and improved upon where necessary. As part of our supplier approval program we only source (where possible), RSPO certified materials/components where available. This requirement forms part of the procurement sourcing process and is reiterated within our supplier self audit questionnaire where various questions are asked around RSPO and certificates obtained where relevant. Any suppliers deemed high risk within our vulnerability/authenticity risk assessment are also required to complete a full supply chain map. The supplier approval and monitoring process is an ongoing requirement for all new and existing suppliers into our business and the details are renewed/reviewed on an annual basis
