3.6 How do you proactively promote RSPO and RSPO certified sustainable palm oil and oil palm products to your customers?

We frequently engaged with many people that actually involved with this RSPO process, and repeatedly we informed many of them about the necessity about RSPO no matter in which position they are. We always informed them that RSPO become part of oil palm grower, through we are end user of this oil palm product. We encourage many people within our circle that RSPO will be part of the process very soon in whole Thailand. So, we are trying to source this out on how we can help many oil palm grower to move on with this process and this whole process will take a lot more time since many of oil palm grower in this area are smallholders.

Challenges

1 What significant economic, social or environmental obstacles have you encountered in the production, procurement, use and/or promotion of CSPO and what efforts did you make to mitigate or resolve them?

We still having some issue with procurement of CSPO product, because the availability of them still very limited in Thailand. We are trying to resolve the issue by getting our plantation certify as well as crushing mill in our group company. Anyway , those still ongoing process and should be done very future.

2 In addition to the actions already reported in this ACOP how has your organization supported the vision of RSPO to transform markets in other ways? (e.g. Funding; Engagement with key stakeholders; Business to business education/outreach)

We engaged with many business partner especially our buyers. Since we have already certify ourselves under supply chain, we are working on the process of making this 100% certified rspo activity, but due to limitation of the certified product in my area, this whole process might take a little longer than we expected.
