- Reputation of palm oil in the market
- Reputation of RSPO in the market
- Supply issues
- Traceability issues
- Others

Other:

We have a number of suppliers that have no plans on becoming RSPO certified as our volumes that we take from them are not large enough for them to have the implicated cost of becoming certified. Also some of our raw materials contain a small percentage of palm oil fractions/derivatives which are not available to be sourced as segregated or mass balanced. This is because suppliers are reluctant to source the palm oil of which is less than 2% as it is not deemed necessary according to their RSPO certification system. It is "not applicable".

10.2 In addition to the actions already reported in this ACOP, how has your organisation supported the vision of RSPO to transform the market for sustainable palm oil in other ways?

- Engagement with business partners or consumers on the use of CSPO
- Engagement with government agencies
- Promotion of CSPO outside of RSPO venues eg trade workshops industry associations
- Promotion of physical CSPO
- Providing funding or support for CSPO development efforts
- Research & Development support
- Stakeholder engagement
- Others

Other:

We have supported the use of RSPO methods in line with meeting retailers expectations and from this we aim to source all of our raw materials (when possible) from RSPO certified suppliers. Our RSPO certification is communicated throughout the company and to customers when requested.
